

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Mike Pence announced that President Bush has approved an additional five counties from the Sixth Congressional District to receive federal flood relief. Counties in Pence's district that were just selected to receive assistance include: Delaware, Henry, Madison, Rand...

Contact: Matt Lloyd

PENCE HERALDS ADDITIONAL FLOOD RELIEF

Five Sixth District Counties Added to Original Total

Washington, Jul 11, 2003 - WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Mike Pence announced that President Bush has approved an additional five counties from the Sixth Congressional District to receive federal flood relief. Counties in Pence's district that were just selected to receive assistance include: Delaware, Henry, Madison, Randolph and Wayne. Grant, Hamilton, Hancock and Marion counties were also included in the amended announcement.

"I am excited to announce that help to these counties is on the way," said Pence. "The financial assistance from the federal government will be a great help for the families, farmers and local officials in these counties."

Pence toured the district today visiting areas ravaged by flooding. He also used the opportunity to meet with community leaders and volunteers.

The amendment now means that ten counties in the Sixth Congressional District have been selected for assistance. The list includes: Adams, Allen, Blackford, Delaware, Jay, Henry, Madison, Randolph, Wayne and Wells.

###